You love with fierce passion and immediacy. Venus in Aries ignites quickly, pursuing love with boldness and an almost warrior-like devotion. You are drawn to those who challenge you, who match your fire, who aren't afraid of your intensity. Love, for you, is an adventure.

Venus, the planet of love, beauty, and values, reveals how you give and receive affection. In Aries, your Venus expresses the fire element's gifts -- bringing cardinal energy to everything you love.

✦ YOUR FULL READING ✦

Born June 1, 1926 in Los Angeles at 9:30 AM, Marilyn Monroe carried her Venus in Aries through the 10th House — the part of the chart that puts you on the public stage, whether you asked for it or not. Venus in Aries loves like an opening line: bold, immediate, undisguised. There is no slow approach. The pursuit IS the affection.

In the 10th, that pursuit lands in public. Every relationship she had became a chapter the world watched. The intimacy that other Venuses build privately, hers performed in full view. That is not a flaw of the placement. It is the assignment: the work was to discover whether the affection she chased on camera matched the one she could hold offstage.

The gift of Venus in Aries is courage. She walked into every room as if love were a country she had already declared citizenship to. The cost was the lack of cover — no quiet way to be wrong, no private mistake, every misjudgment a headline.

A reading like this one does not psychoanalyze the famous. It reads the placement, then asks you what the placement is doing in YOUR life. If you have Venus in Aries (or strong Mars contacts to Venus), you know this dance — the rush, the certainty, the impatient affection that does not wait to be polite. The work is the same: protect the heart that runs first. Make a quiet life as well as a loud one.

This sample shows the depth of a Personal Astrology Deep Dive ($95). Your version draws from your actual birth data — name, time, place — and reads the placements that are running your life right now, not the ones that ran Marilyn's.

YOUR VENUS YEAR AHEAD

Venus transits for Aries in 2026

Your Venus Return happens when Venus transits back through Aries, first arriving Feb 1. This is one of the most potent windows of the year for love, attraction, and beauty in your life. Plan meaningful dates, refresh your appearance, or make important relationship decisions during this time. You get a second return window starting Nov 26 -- a rare double blessing for your Venus sign this year.

Venus Return

♀ VENUS RETROGRADE: MARCH 1 – APRIL 12

Venus stations retrograde in Aries and backs into Pisces. This is a time of reflection, not initiation. Old lovers may resurface, past patterns become visible, and the heart asks you to reconsider what you truly value. For Venus in Aries, this retrograde moves through your sign -- making it especially personal. Go gently with your heart.

Venus circles the zodiac roughly once a year, activating each sign for about 25 days.

Your Venus Return is your annual invitation to refresh how you love.

COMPATIBILITY & KEYS

Signs that harmonize with Venus in Aries

These signs share a natural resonance with your Venus placement. While compatibility is written across the entire chart, these connections carry a particular sweetness for your heart.

◆ WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Seek partners whose Venus or Sun falls in fellow Fire signs, or in signs that complement your cardinal nature. A harmonious Venus connection creates ease in how you give and receive love -- like speaking the same emotional language without effort.

♥ YOUR PARTNERSHIP KEY

Your Fire Venus craves passion, spontaneity, and a love that feels like an adventure. Look for partners who match your energy, who aren't afraid to leap, and who keep the spark alive through shared experiences.

Remember: the full picture of compatibility lives in the entire birth chart.

Your Venus sign is one beautiful thread in the larger tapestry.
